I have my simulation working, and I have the zoom working as I want it, however what I need is a way to draw on top of the previous one. I have tried z-index, even tried to draw on top of them. I am currently drawing on top of the point, which is what I want to do. However, I would like to be able to draw on top of an item drawn the previous day as well. I am not even sure if this is possible, if so, I would love to know how!
